

Is your EA allowed at your prop firm?

Firm + account + platform first. A blank answer is unverified, not permitted.

01 ACCOUNT

Which firm, product, account size and platform will run the EA? Is automation allowed on that exact combination?

02 OWNERSHIP

Is the source code yours to use? Is the bot shared, purchased or deployed by other traders? Can you prove development history?

03 TRADE COPYING

Could other accounts place identical orders? Does the firm distinguish your own accounts from another person's?

04 EXECUTION

Do HFT, server traffic, minimum holding time or prohibited-strategy rules affect this implementation?

05 DAILY LOSS

Balance or equity basis? At what timezone and clock time does the limit reset? Are open positions included?

06 NEWS AND HOLDING

Are there restricted news windows, weekend rules or positions to close at a specified time?

07 CONSISTENCY

Is there a best-day, lot-size or other consistency condition for this account? How is it measured?

08 EVIDENCE

Have you tested a normal case, a boundary case and a failure case on the same platform and settings?

Official rule pages | checked 29 September 2026

FTMO | Strategies and EAs

FundedNext | Is EA allowed?

FundingPips | Trading conduct

Tradeify | Guidelines for traders

Keep the rule version and any written firm answer. A backtest cannot prove live compliance.

No challenge-pass, payout or return guarantee. Free copy: stratcorealpha.com/prop-firm-ea/checklist